

All Praise is Due to Allah, and Peace and Prayers Be Upon the Messenger of Allah, His Family, His Companions. And as to what follows.

Peace be upon you, God's mercy, and His blessings. And as to what follows:

To: The brother, the emir of vehicles, may God preserve you.

Subject: Complaint.

May God show us the right and grant us to follow it, and show us falsehood as invalid and help us to avoid it.

More than a week ago, while I was on the road to the workshops, brother Abu Bilal, the workshops manager, stopped me, and brother Abu Jamil al-Homsi was with him. There had been disputes between them about a battery in the workshop, as brother Abu Jamil had taken it with him to the house to be used for lighting and without permission. So, I told him that you have no right to use it except with the permission of the emir.

On this day, brother Abu Jamil came to the Vehicles Administration Office and began to speak with the brother in charge of the vehicles, on the same subject, denouncing my words and those of brother Abu Bilal. He said to the administrative brother, word-to-word: 'this is the official responsible for monitoring and scandalmonger/ [informer] on the brothers, he told me: You have no right to take the battery,' while he was pointing at me with contempt. So, I told him: 'what did you just say? Monitoring and....' I expected him to apologize or even deny it, but he finished my words by repeating: "monitoring and scandalmonger." This happened in front of a group of brothers, including brother Abul-Mu'tasim al-Idari, brother Abu Hanin, brother Abu 'Umar, and others.

In my opinion, brother Abu Jamil's words can be explained in two ways only: the first is that he was referring to me personally, and in this case, I am asking him, through the judiciary, to prove that I slandered the brothers without any justification.

As for the second way that is understood from his words, it is the mockery of supervision and monitoring as a title and as one of the bricks that form the structure of the Islamic State, may God protect it.

Thus, I ask you to review and decide what God will help you to see.

And may God reward you the best.

Supervision and Monitoring